Trial Study Blank

To the Student:

Before coming for advisement you should:
(1) Select a tentative program.
(2) Get below the signature of approval of the instructor for any research or reading course.

At advisement you will discuss the program with your departmental adviser; then list the courses and obtain his signature of approval below.

Be sure that the program you register for by torchtone is the one approved by your advisor. Otherwise, you may not get credit toward your degree. Any subsequent change in program (drop-add) must be approved by a graduate advisor.

Consult the current Graduate School of Arts and Science Bulletin for course numbers, course descriptions, and rules governing admission, advisement, registration, course changes, withdrawals, etc. An updated departmental course list is available.
